

Taylor & Francis Open Access Publishing

Taylor & Francis Group
an informa business

For all University of California authors

As a University of California author, you are entitled to a 75% discount on gold open access article publishing charges (APCs) via our license agreement with the California Digital Library.

Choose the journal you wish to submit an article to.

Find the Submit online or Instructions for authors link on the journal homepage under the Authors and submissions navigation tab.

Follow the submission instructions. Once accepted, you will receive an email offering you the option to make your article open access. Follow the instructions in that email.

Email apc@tandf.co.uk with your name, institution, journal and article name requesting that they apply the UC APC discount to the fee.

Taylor & Francis will keep track of the APC discount that you have used.

Your paper is now available online, accessible to the global research community for reading, sharing and citing!

Which journals does the discount apply to?

The discounted APCs will be applied to all open access articles published in Taylor & Francis Open and Open Select journals.

How do I know if I am eligible to receive the discount?

APC discounts are available in cases where a University of California author is the lead or corresponding author. The APC discount cannot be used in conjunction with any other discount offer.

The following UC campuses are eligible for the APC discount:

- University of California Berkeley (including Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory)
- University of California Davis
- University of California Irvine
- University of California Los Angeles
- University of California Merced
- University of California Office of the President
- University of California Riverside
- University of California San Diego
- University of California San Francisco
- University of California Santa Barbara
- University of California Santa Cruz

Is there a time limit on using the discount?

A 75% APC discount against Taylor & Francis's published full rate OA APC fee shall be available for the first 400 published articles per annum. A 50% APC discount will be applied to any additional articles published during the remainder of the calendar year.
